

940 High Road

1863

“Stonehouse”

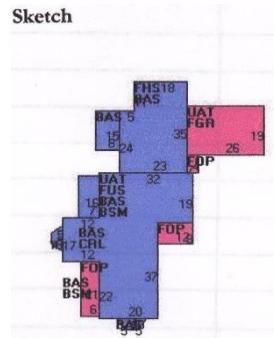

Nelson Augustus Moore (1824-1902) & Ann Pickett (1832-1909). Built with cement from his father's mills. Nelson was a well known landscape painter, photographer, designed the 1st Civil War monument. His father's house is next door.

1985 Townwide Historic and Architectural Survey of Berlin, Connecticut.

Listed, but no survey

2018 Town of Berlin GIS Index.

1863 current owner: Dolphin Kensington Group

Genealogy date

N.A. Moore was born on August 2, 1824, the son of Deacon Roswell Moore and Lucy Allen. He married Ann Maria Pickett (1832-1909) on January 23, 1853. In 1863 he built Stonehouse, next door to his childhood home.

He was the designer of and raised funds for the Civil War Soldier's Monument east of KCC. He was a leader in procuring the pipe organ for KCC in 1865. During the Civil War, he built a stone and cement home in Kensington on High Road using cement from the family mill located in Kensington. He was a local agent at Berlin Railroad Station. At the age of 16 years, he had a painting loft above the station. He became a landscape and portrait painter and studied under Thomas Cumming and Daniel Huntington in New York City. N.A. Moore and Ann had 4 children: Edwin, Ellen, Ethelbert, and Alanson. He died on November 30, 1902 and is buried in the West Lane Cemetery. Ann died in 1909 and is buried in the West Lane Cemetery.

